

LOOP AT WORK

PING PONG TABLE PACKAGES

DO YOU WANT TO ADD AN INJECTION OF ENERGY INTO YOUR OFFICE?

- Invest in your staff and help them feel valued and rewarded
- Reduce absenteeism and increase productivity
- Have a team of staff that enjoy coming to work and engage with one other

...then a Loop at Work package could be the perfect solution for you, at a very affordable price!

Companies such as Anglia Water, The Ordnance Survey, Hootsuite and Astra Zeneca have all recognised the benefits that this fun sport can bring to the workplace and have tables available for their staff to use.

If you're spending 40-odd hours a week at work you've got to have a break every so often otherwise you'd get faded and jaded; our table tennis table is there, so let's go whack some balls around, then get back to what you're doing with fresh eyes"

- Hugh Byrne, CEO
Form IT Solutions.

Loop at Work introduces table tennis into your office and;

- Helps to develop thinking and decision making skills and aids concentration
- Encourages staff to stay on site during lunchtimes and after work and creates a culture whereby staff know that they're not expected to stay at their desks all day long
- Creates a more relaxed working environment which in turn can aid staff morale and performance
- Promotes health and wellbeing
- Can be played in work clothes meaning it is fully accessible any time, for any length of time
- Is fully inclusive and can be played and enjoyed by people of all abilities
- Is a great reward for staff that isn't work related
- Entertains and impresses clients and visitors

Haven't got the space?

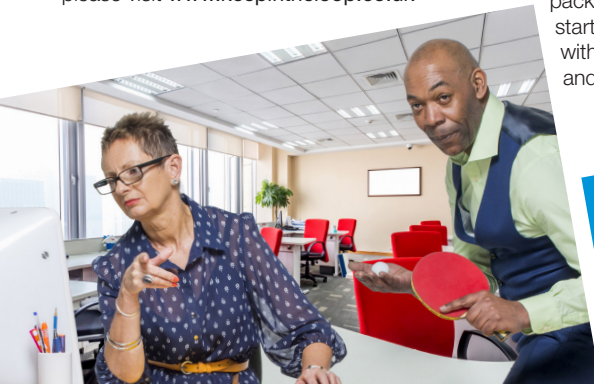

We have number of space saving options including a table topper, ¾ table, an outdoor table and an instant ping pong pack. Or, why not consider replacing a meeting or staff room table for a multi-purpose table tennis table? We offer branding packages too, so it can fit in beautifully to its corporate surroundings if it needs to and all of the tables fold up neatly so can be put away too.
